Young Men of the Period" and Vice Versa.

[AN ANSWER TO "GIRLS OF THE PERIOD."]

Some young men love a tale
To pass remarks upon it;
Then sally forth to try and meet.
The wearer of the "bonnet."

I do not know, so cannot say,
If young men paint their faces;
But some of them at least can boast
Of anything but "graces."

And if they do not paint their cheeks, I hear they dye their hair; Moustaches too that do not please, When they have grown too fair.

They strut about the streets or stand, At every corner talking; To criticize each passer by, Or watch the ladies walking.

They love to flirt that so they may, Pass many an idle heur; And care not that they have the thorn, When they have plucked the flower. Then when the evening shades prevail, In some saloon they press: With not a thought for those at home, They might return to bless.

Nor of the lonely watcher there, Who watches all in vain; With heavy head and sinking heart, And thoughts of bitter pain.

I in the facts I here relate, Avoid a sweeping stricture; And we condemn not all of them, I will reverse the picture.

Some are the light of many homes, And all the loved ones there; Who gather round the honsehold hearth, Are their special care. For whom when shades of evening fall, We watch, but not in vain;

Whose loving words, and gentle deeds, Could never give us pain.

Some say that such are very scarce, Are few and far between; It may be so, I cannot say, I speak of those I've seen. We should not judge too hastily, Of any here below;

For we might make a great mistake, We cannot always know.

"Girls of the period" are no worse, Than "young men" of the same; I pity all who can deserve, been discussed last year when the sense of the House was opposed to this resolution. There might be considerable force in many adoption of the resolution would be fraught with very great, if not insuperable difficulty. It was desirable that as many persons in Canada as possible should be interested in the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and it was undesirable that the House should adopt the policy of excluding a large number of gentlemen who might otherwise wish to be interested in this great Canadian enter-prise. A great deal had been said against throwing this great Dominion work into the hands of foreign capitalists, and yet the hon-gentleman wished to exclude many gentle men of the greatest public spirit and enterprise from connection with the road. Ther were now ten millions of Canadian stock in this enterprise,— (hear, hear )— and bond fide payments had been made to the extent of a million of dollars. (Hear, hear.) Sub-pose that by the death of a stockholder some member of this House should become the owner of a dollar's worth of stock in the Canadian Pacific Railway his seat would become void. He did not think it desirable that the House should adopt a resolution which would be fraught in consequences so embarrasing apart from any question of policy. Why was it necessary to extend the pri youd any range attempted before? This was not a new position for a great public work to occupy towards the Government. The Grand Trunk, the Northern and the Great Western Railways occupied the same position in the old Province of Canada, and in Ontario a large number of railways were being built by companies subsidized by the Local Gov ernment just as largely, in proportion to their cost, as the Pacific Company; but the hon, gentleman had never found it necessary move such a resolution with the contractor for the anpply of gravel, sleepers, or anything else. It was desirable to preserve in every possible way the independence of Parliament, and nothing should be done to give such a great corpora-tion as this undue influence in Parliament The adoption of this resolution would be fraught with very serious consequences. Mr. Holton suggested that an amendmen might be made in Committee to meet the ob-jections of the Minister of Customs, but he thought the Government ought to allow the principle of the resolution to be affirmed by going into Committee on it. Sir John Macdonald objected that the reso-lution was out of order, as it went further than the notice. The latter declared that no one having a pecuniary interest in the road shall be eligible to be elected a member of this House. The resolution moved provided street on not only this, but also that uo such person should sit or vote in Parliament. The House could not adopt the monetrous principle of altering the qualification of any member now elected To pass a law after a member was elected, to declare that he should be turned Sax Francisco, May 28.—A man named which had never been heard of before. Mr. Mackenzie consented to amend his resolution, by striking out those words. Sir John Macdonald said this resolution introduced a new feature, and was contrary to first principles. The object of providing melling away for some time longer with all for the independence of Parliament was Implements ! his might. It was reported Tuesday evening simply that the influence of the Crown might influence of the Crown, he did not see. It was absurd to suppose, that if a man had a contract to build twenty miles of the railway he could not represent a constituency independently of the Crown and the Sovereign. The argument, in fact, of the hon, gentleman appeared to be that the Company was going to govern the Crown. Why had not this principle been thought of before in regard to other railways in the Province of Ontario? There was scarcely a railway which was not subsidized by the Government of which the hon, gentleman was a member, and several, nearly every one of those roads, had some shareholders members of the Provincial Parliament. This was simply an attack upon the Canadian Pacific Railway, made because the hon, gentleman opposite were opposed to having a Cacadian Pacific Railway at all. In addition to this the proposal was useless, for it would not affect any member in this House, but would almost give those members who were contractors a monopoly. If the resolutions were adopted, a bill would have to be introduced founded upon it, and passed through both branches of the Legislature. He thought the hon, gentleman having had the opportunity of putting his views on the journals, might be satisfied to allow his resolution to stand over till next session, Mr. Crawford pointed out that all persons who were members of corporations which had contracts with the Pacific Railway, would be excluded from the House. All stockholders which every one acknowledged was necessary in the best interests of the country, it should not be adopted by the House. If a general measure were introduced which would affect all companies alike, he would go almost any length with hon gentlemen to secure the purity of the House.

Mr. Charlton said that it was generally understood that after the magnificent provision that had been made for the Canadian Pacific Railway, they would not come back again to this House and look for further aid. The influence of this company, he contended, was already to be noticed upon our legislation in Dominion Parliament.—House of the price which had been fixed upon the lands in Manitoba. He feared that if a prevision were not made excluding holders of stock of the Pacific Railway from the House, we should see frauds equal to those of which we had all heard as having securied in the United States. There was a provision in the charter which, unless houses approvision were had over the construction of the read would cause most disastrous results.

tained such a control over the legislative of could show more clearly the unsultableness the country as to set at defiance the country, and they might hold the balance of power in work. There was also a great difference as Parliament, while not really representative, for as regarded the Ontario roads. The cape the hoped to secure the concurrence of members of both sides of the House in this resolution, as it was of equal importance to both parties to prevent any body of men from obtaining control over Parliament.

Work. There was also a great difference as the parliament as work. There was also a great difference as far as regarded the Ontario roads. The cape it also the Capadian Pacific was practically for all of the Capadian Pacific was practically in land. In Ontario, however, a certain sum was given to the company on the completion of the work. As to the Pacific it was to be

Hon. Mr. Tupper said this question had been discussed last year when the sense of the House was opposed to this resolution. There might be considerable force in many of the remarks of the hon. gentleman, but the adoption of the resolution would be fraught contract. He contended that the argument used by the Government the other day in respect to a contract for the Intercolonial would pect to a contract for the intercolonial would be used with respect to relaxations in regard to the Pacific, and who could doubt that with the immense influence which the great cor-poration would bring to bear upon the Gev-erument, and more especially if these mem-bers of this House were allowed to held stock

THE COMPANY IS FORMED FOR the purpose of acquiring the property known as the Belmont Factory, situate on Esquimath Harbor, and the business carried on therein, consisting of Tanning, and Boot and Shoe Manufacturing, and of continuing he same.

The purchase would include the Land, Buildings, A hinery, Plant, Stock-in-Trade and goodwill of the buses, all of which it is proposed shall be taken at a vation to be made by competent disinterested persons. The Boot and Shoe Department has for the past years been carried on under the management of Switzer, almost exclusively by Chinese labor, at a succest, but the recent addition of the Tanuery, which found a necessity, in order to maintain a sufficient a ply of good material, has required a considerable outland renders the introduction of further capital necess for the proper development of the business.

The Water Power which is utilized for the conduct of Works, is all that could be desired, and could readily be neressed to ten times its present power, if at any time equired, either for the purposes of this undertaking, of or any other Manufactory. The supply is derived from springs on the Estate, is very soft in quality, and is ever failing.

In fact the business is in thorough working order, and Springs on the Estate, is very sort in quanty, server failing.

In fact the business is in thorough working order, and Mr. Switzer's services as Manager of the Works will be retained upon terms favorable to the Company.

The Land consists of 546 acres, known as the Spring Vale Estate, some of which is of excellent quality.

The Timber is of considerable value for Firewood, the situation being favorable for easy delivery.

The operations of the Boot and Shoe Manufactory during the past two years have been highly satisfactory.

The goods are specially adapted to the requirements of the Provincial trade, have given general satisfaction, and at a profit successfully compete with the imported satisfaction.

The sales for 1872 amounted to nearly $30,000, which operation, shows the favor with which the products have been received.

The importations of Boots and Shoes as declared at the Custom House for the year 1871, was about $100,000, representing a selling, value, after adding duties, etc., of any $150,000. The importation for last year fell off considerably, the decrease being doubtless partially occasioned by the local production. In addition to the demand for Boots and Shoes, as evidenced by the Customs House returns, the sales of Leather produced at the Tannery have to be taken into account, when considering the entire field for the operations of the undertaking.

Ing the entire field for the operations of the undertakng.

The Tannery operations only commenced in August last, and as the tanning process involves a period of several months, the business of this Department is in its infancy—a very superior article is, however, being produced at low prices by an economical process, and, as there is no difficulty in obtaining an abundant supply of Hides, the outturn will be sufficient for the supply of Hides, the outturn will be sufficient for the supply of the general demand for harness, mill belting, &c., in addition to the requirements of the Boot Factory.

The Belmont Boot and Shoe Factory was the first enterprise of its kind established in the Province, and its having been so far carried on with success is an assurance that, as population increases, very remunerative returns will be realised.

The value of industrial institutions to the well being of any country is indisputable, and as the hides produced in the Province are now being manufactured into leather, which in turn is made into Boots and Shees, &c., (instead of as formerly being exported and the manufactured articles in turn imported, the saving to the country by the undertaking is sufficiently obvious. It is, therefore, not unreasonable to assume that the advantages which the prosecution of such a reproductive institution insures will, aside from the remunerative character of the business, have due weight with all who are in any way interested in the prosperity of the Province.

Douglas & Johnson Streets. GINGER WINE. are in any way interested in the prosperity vance.

It should be remarked that this company will become at ozce possessed of two businesses with established connections, without any interruption to working or loss of time in transfer, and will therefore have from the loss of time in transfer, and will therefore have from the first day of its possession a revenue from a business which is capable not only of immediate, but, in the future, almost unlimited extension.

Most similar undertakings of any magnitude are now worked successfully by joint stock companies, both in Great Britain and in the United States.

The transfer of the property to the Company will only be made upon terms satisfactory to the Provisional Board of Directors, based upon the valuation. The purchase will be effected to a large extent in shares retained by the present proprietor, a portion of which will not participate in any profit until a dividend of 10 per cent. has first been paid to the new shareholders.

Applications for shares may be made to the Secretary Applications for shares may be made to the Secretary protem., the Bank of British Columbia, or to Messrs Drake & Jackson.
